1 BACKGROUND

1.1 Introduction

The European social partners ETUC, BUSINESSEUROPE, CEEP and UEAPME have undertaken to develop a joint project entitled "Skills needs in greening economies".

They have therefore responded to a call for proposal of the European Commission (Budget Line 04-03-03-01) to obtain the necessary funding in order to be able to carry out their action, with a final decision expected in November 2012.

In the framework of this call, they express their intention to select a subcontractor.

This call for tender describes the subcontracting work needed to carry out this 18-month joint project.

These tender specifications therefore detail the background, purpose of the tender, experience required, tasks, payment and price, selection criteria and procedures regarding the subcontractor.

1.2 Objective and Method

Through their 2011 joint study on national and sectoral initiatives, the European social partners conducted an analysis of tripartite and bipartite practices at national and sectoral levels.

This joint study has identified a number of issues regarding the involvement of social partners on interlink between climate change, employment and training policies across Europe.

Building on the 2011 joint study, European social partners want to look into more detail at different models of social partner participation and engagement in the transition towards a low-carbon economy, including some which may have emerged since the study took place.

In line with the 2012-2014 work programme, the focus will be put on the implications of the greening of the economy on skills needs.

In terms of methodology, the European social partners will ask a subcontractor/expert to identify existing practices, based on the joint initiative, as well as a number of new initiatives (up to 30 cases in total), illustrating concretely these elements and challenges.

In order to better detail the cases, the subcontractor will conduct several interviews and will organize – if needed – 10 country visits.

The European social partners will organise a joint conference to present the main practices identified (80 participants, 40 from each side, 1.5 days) and to discuss possible lessons learned on social partner involvement in better responding to changing skills needs in greening economies.

All EU 27 Member States and candidate countries will be invited to participate, as well as the European Commission. This 1.5 day Conference will take place in Brussels.
